

Discover a new level of project ownership and business intelligence.

Make informed decisions about your review

RICOH Acumen provides valuable business intelligence and insight from your Relativity environment. Designated users will be armed with snapshot and trend reports, along with workspace metrics and statistics, and real-time review performance tracking.

Using the global view, users can report on all their Relativity projects and project history or drill down to single or selected cases—with interactive, downloadable graphs, and an executive summary of all cases.

Take ownership over Relativity

Authorized users will gain access to Relativity admin features such as setting up workspaces and users and applying permissions. They'll also be able to upload and process data directly into Relativity. This empowers your team to take more ownership and streamline workflows, resulting in fewer interruptions and less demand for your project managers to handle administrative tasks.

Security in the cloud

Our solutions are all hosted within our industry leading cloud environments, where not only is data encrypted as it moves and at rest, but is supported with policies and procedures for compliance with governing requirements such as FedRAMP, PCI, and HITRUST. It also undergoes consistent review to ensure risk mitigation controls are updated as needed. Electronically Stored Information (ESI) is uploaded directly to our cloud environment and physical media goes through our secure, in-house forensics lab and receives the same attention to detail, chain of custody tracking, and level of scrutiny as all forensics matters.

Why RICOH Acumen?

- Business intelligence and insight to discover project trends
- Real-time review performance tracking
- Access to Relativity admin features
- Direct upload and processing
- Security through our industryleading cloud environment
